

Dec. 10 - Luke 12:6

Hello and thanks for joining in on to today's daily devotion. Today is Thursday. Dec. 10th. The 5th day of the Hebraic week.

Our verse today is found in the New Testament. Luke 12:6.

Luke 12:6 Are not five sparrows sold for two pennies? Yet not one of them is forgotten by God.
7 Indeed, the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Don't be afraid; you are worth more than many sparrows.

It was just the other day that I had to make a run into town. Had a lot on my mind. Going through a few things here lately. Who's not, right? Well, as I was driving I was just praying and singing. It was just me in the vehicle so I could pray out loud with no interruptions.

Well, as I pulled up to a curb to park I saw a bird that only had one leg. It was struggling in getting around and landing on certain things but it was still making it. I just sat there for a moment and watched it as it was struggling to get by.

As I was watching it, this verse in Luke came to mind. Again,

Luke 12:6 Are not five sparrows sold for two pennies? Yet not one of them is forgotten by God.
7 Indeed, the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Don't be afraid; you are worth more than many sparrows.

Ya know, it doesn't matter what you are going through, He see's you. He knows. He knows. Trust in Him. Is it easy? Nope. Not always. In fact sometimes it can be down right hard. But you can do it. He sees. He knows. Yea... He knows. He'll see you through. It may not be when you want or how you want, but he'll see you through. You're worth far more than sparrows to the creator.

Let this be a focus in your time of meditation throughout the day. Until tomorrow, shalom!
