Psalm 37:18-20 - Two Groups

Welcome to Scriptures for Life with TorahFamily.org. Taking time to focus on the Father's way.

Psalm 37:18 The days of the blameless are known to YHWH, and their inheritance will endure forever. 19 In times of disaster they will not wither; in days of famine they will enjoy plenty. 20 But the wicked will perish: YHWH's enemies will be like the beauty of the fields, they will vanish — vanish like smoke.

The first few words of these verses speak volumes. “The days of the blameless are known to YHWH.” These words should bring comfort to every believer. Well, let me rephrase that. These words should bring comfort to the blameless. Now, your probably thinking “Blameless! Who’s blameless?” But “blameless” doesn't mean “without fault.” It means perfect in motive. That being in pursuing YHWH.

Now, everyone who pursues YHWH claims their motives are pure. Of course. Yet, at the same time, everybody, and I mean everybody, knows when YHWH is speaking to their heart on something. You know where your motives are. We all do. Remember, these verses put everyone into one of two groups. Blameless or wicked.

If YHWH pricks your heart and you ignore it, what group would you be in?

Let this be a focus in your time of meditation throughout the day. Until next time, Shalom.
