

We've had many questions come to us over the delay of the registration for our planned youth convention, Rise Up. Unfortunately, the planned venue cancelled out on us. We spent many long hours in trying to make it happen at an alternate venue. However, it just didn't work out for the timing we needed. As it is, we're postponing the convention until next year. Yes. The same time. December 24th through the 26th. Just one year later. All of our speakers and worship team are planning on still being a part of this awesome event. EVERYTHING will go as planned from the beginning, just delayed.

Please know we are truly sorry for this. Trust me when I say, we're just as, if not more, disappointed to have to share this news with you. Yet, we know all things work together for the good of those who are called according to His purpose. Everything is for a reason. Whether we see that reason on this side of eternity or not.

If all goes as planned, we'll begin advertising and open registration again late Spring next year. Thank you for understanding and we request that you please join us in putting this event on your list of things to pray over. This is an event to reach youth with the eternal word of YHWH. Help us in making it the best we can by starting to pray over it now.

May YHWH bless you and keep you.

Growing in Him,
Steve
